FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Storms in 2004 and 2005 resulted in a total of $36 billion in estimated losses.
- As a result of the 8 major storms that impacted Florida in 2004 and 2005, insurance premiums increased and public outrage soared over the lack of available, affordable property insurance.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Citizens Property Insurance Corporation (Citizens), which was a residual market insurer at that time, incurred over $2.5 billion in losses and faced a $1.7 billion deficit after the 2005 storms.
- After a Legislative appropriation, remaining deficit of $1 billion is being assessed by Citizens over 10 years.
- Citizens is now the largest personal lines property insurer in the state.
- 2006 Legislature created the Insurance Capital Incentive Build-Up Program in an effort to attract more private insurance capital to Florida.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- In response to growing concerns, the Property and Casualty Insurance Reform Committee was created in 2006 by Executive Order of then-Governor Jeb Bush.
- The Committee recommended augmentation of the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund (FHCF) and expansion of Citizens.
- Special Session 2007 A of the Florida Legislature was convened in January 2007 to exclusively address property insurance issues and the Committee's recommendations.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- The Special Session produced CS/HB 1-A, a bill aimed at reducing hurricane-related insurance costs for Florida homeowners and businesses.
- The legislation, which passed unanimously in the Florida Senate and by a vote of 116-2 in the Florida House of Representatives, made considerable changes to both FHCF and Citizens, among other things.
- The bill was signed into law by Florida Governor Charlie Crist shortly after its passage.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

Citizens Property Insurance Corporation

- Extensive changes were made to Citizens pursuant to CS/HB 1-A.
- In an attempt to provide immediate rate relief to Citizens' policyholders, the new law repealed the requirement that Citizens' rates be non-competitive and no lower than the top 20 insurers.
- Instead, Citizens' rates are required to be "actuarially sound" and subject to the standards that generally apply to private property insurers.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Under the new law, if a new applicant to Citizens is offered coverage from an insurer at its approved rate, the property is not eligible for a Citizens' policy, unless the insurer's premium is more than 15 percent greater than the premium for comparable coverage from Citizens.
- Policyholders of Citizens remain eligible for coverage regardless of any offer of coverage from a private market insurer.
- The requirement that Citizens charge rates sufficient to purchase reinsurance up to specified PMLs has been eliminated.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- The new law froze Citizens' rates at the December 31, 2006, level for the remainder of 2007, rescinded the approved rate increase that was to take effect January 1, 2007, and requires Citizens to provide refunds to persons who have paid the increased rate.
- Citizens is authorized to offer multiperil coverage for commercial nonresidential properties in all areas of Florida, subject to the qualifications applicable to Citizens' High Risk Account (HRA).
- Citizens is entering the commercial lines market through the assumption of the Property and Casualty Joint Underwriting Association.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- In 2006, legislators changed the amount Citizens' policyholders could be assessed to as much as 30% of policy premium. Lawmakers deferred implementing this change for one year as part of the 2007 insurance reform bill.
- Homeowners could be assessed twice, up to 60% of their premiums. Non-homestead property, including businesses, rental property and vacation homes, could be assessed up to three times or 90% of their premiums.
- The Florida Senate is considering deferring the assessment change for another year, along with extending the freeze on Citizens' rates.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund

- Originally created in 1993 in the aftermath of Hurricane Andrew.
- FHCF functions as a reinsurer.
- Reduces need for private capital in the Florida market.
- FHCF creates pricing pressure in private reinsurance market.
- FHCF restricts need for new sources of capital (i.e. sidecars, Cat bonds).

COLODNY • FASS • TALENFELD • KARLINSKY • ABATE

Cagney Network

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- CS/HB 1-A substantially increased the FHCF capacity.
- This law created the new Temporary Increase in Coverage Limit option (TICL option). The TICL option, available to residential property insurers for the 2007 through 2009 hurricane seasons, allows an insurer to purchase its proportional FHCF premium share of up to $12 billion in coverage, in $1 billion increments, above the FHCF industry limit of $16 billion for 2007 (for a total of up to $28 billion).

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- The SBA may further increase the $12 billion coverage limits up to an additional $4 billion (for up to a total of $32 billion).
- This law also created the Temporary Emergency Additional Coverage Option (TEACO), which allows residential property insurers to purchase additional coverage below each insurer's market share of the FHCF retention.
- Insurers may select their share of an industry retention level of $3 billion, $4 billion or $5 billion for 2007, 2008, and 2009 to cover 90 percent, 75 percent, or 45 percent of their losses up to the normal retention for the mandatory FHCF coverage.

COLODNY • FASS • TALENFELD • KARLINSKY • ABATE

Cagney Network

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Coverage based on a $3 billion retention will be priced at an 85 percent rate-on-line; $4 billion retention at an 80 percent rate-on-line; and $5 billion retention at a 75 percent rate-on-line.
- The TEACO coverage applies to two hurricanes for each contract year.
- This law also allowed eligible residential property insurers to purchase up to $10 million in additional FHCF coverage at a level significantly below the normal FHCF rate. The $10 million coverage amount was above a retention equal to 30 percent of the insurer's surplus, as of December 21, 2006.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- The premium was set at 50 percent of the coverage amount (i.e., $5 million for $10 million coverage). The coverage applied to two hurricanes and was offered only for the 2007 contract year.
- This coverage, which was previously available only to the “limited apportionment companies” described in Section 627.351(6)(c), was available to insurers who participated in 2006, limited apportionment companies who began writing property insurance in 2007, and insurers approved to participate in either 2006 or 2007 in the Insurance Capital Build-Up Incentive Program. This coverage is available through May 31, 2008.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Residential property insurers were required to make a rate filing with the Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) reflecting the savings or reduction in loss exposure to the insurer due to the expanded FHCF coverage.
- Each rate filing had to be based upon the "presumed factor" calculated by OIR for any policy written or renewed on or after June 1, 2007, to reflect all expanded FHCF coverage options available to the insurer, whether or not the insurer purchased the coverage.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- The Division would make recommendations to the Board regarding which FHCF optional coverages to offer, limits, and pricing for such coverages for the upcoming reimbursement contract year based on its evaluation of the financial markets and the private reinsurance markets.
- The Board would be authorized to determine which FHCF coverages to offer, their limits, and their pricing by February 15 of each year. FHCF's mandatory coverage would not be impacted.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Residential property insurers would have an incentive to purchase their reinsurance coverage from the FHCF unless they can obtain reinsurance coverage for less in the private reinsurance or capital markets.
- The proposal eliminates the TICL coverage options of $10 billion, $11 billion, and $12 billion, so that a maximum of $9 billion will be offered.
- The proposal would only offer reimbursement of 70% of the insurer's losses within the TICL layer purchased, as opposed to the current maximum of 90% that the vast majority of insurers have selected.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- The Florida House Jobs and Entrepreneurship Council met to discuss the bill on February 21, 2008. The bill was voted out of Committee favorably.
- The Florida Senate Banking and Insurance Committee submitted a similar committee bill on February 19, 2008.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

Current Situation

- Enormous financial risk now rests squarely on the state's shoulders by virtue of Citizens' and FHCF's expanded exposures.
- Bond liquidity and cash reserves of Citizens and FHCF remain issues.
- The Legislature and OIR are investigating why the reforms did not bring about expected rate reduction.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- The new Select Committee on Property Insurance Accountability was formed by the Florida Senate to further investigate these issues within the property insurance industry in Florida.
- Senior insurance executives from Hartford, American Strategic Insurance Company, Nationwide, Florida Farm Bureau and Allstate Floridian have testified before the Committee regarding various market issues.

COLODNY • FASS • TALENFELD • KARLINSKY • ABATE

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Insurance Commissioner McCarty has subpoenaed records from certain insurance companies filing for rate increases and non-renewal plans.
- To date, Auto Owners Insurance Group, State Farm Insurance Companies, Cincinnati Insurance and Cincinnati Indemnity, and Allstate, among others, have been issued subpoenas.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- OIR continues to investigate State Farm, despite a settlement to lower homeowners rates by 9%.
- On February 24, 2008, State Farm announced it will no longer accept new homeowners business in Florida.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Allstate is under fire for dropping homeowners policies, filing for rate increases, and failing to comply with subpoenas.
- The Allstate subpoenas specifically require the production of “any and all Documents and Communications either from or to Risk Modeling Companies.”
- On January 16, 2008, Insurance Commissioner McCarty suspended the certificate of authority of Allstate Companies to write new insurance in Florida until they fully comply with the subpoenas.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Two days later, a state appellate court issued an order staying the suspensions pending disposition of Allstate's appeal.
- On February 19, 2008, Insurance Commissioner McCarty filed an administrative complaint on a non-emergency basis seeking to suspend the certificates of authority of the Allstate Companies to write new insurance policies in Florida.

FLORIDA PROPERTY INSURANCE

- Additionally, Governor Crist has enlisted the help of three trial lawyers in what could become a class-action suit against Florida's insurers.
- These trial attorneys will look at every company that has applied for a rate increase for possible violations of anti-trust laws and conspiring to artificially inflate rates for homeowners insurance.

REGULATORY FOCUS ON RISK MODELING

Florida Commission on Hurricane Loss Projection Methodology

- In 2007, the Florida House of Representatives undertook an investigation of hurricane loss projection models used in Florida. House Speaker Marco Rubio asked the Florida Commission on Hurricane Loss Projection Methodology to review and complete various comparisons of the Public Model and the four private models previously accepted by the Commission.
- The Commission's report, dated November 5, 2007, found that aside from some abnormalities, the output ranges of models submitted to the Commission under the 2006 Standards fall within the range one would expect given the universe of possible scientifically valid approaches.

REGULATORY FOCUS ON RISK MODELING

- Of the five models, the Commission found the Public Model has more observations below the minimum and above the maximum levels generated by the 972 models used as a benchmark for the study.
- The Commission found the variability between the final version of the Public Model is generally greater than three of the long-standing private models (RMS, AIR, and EQE) and less than that of ARA.
- According to the Report, the work of the Commission has led to a greater understanding of the underlying reasons why carefully crafted models can have different but equally valid results. Methods to reduce variation will be an ongoing concern.

FLORIDA AUTO INSURANCE

- PIP and the No-Fault System has become a vehicle for fraud.
- Many auto insurers did not support the extension of PIP.
- Many health care providers lobbied for the extension of PIP.
- PIP sunset on October 1, 2007.

FLORIDA AUTO INSURANCE

- Special Session 2007 – C re-enacted the No-Fault Law effective on January 1, 2008, and required all vehicle owners to have PIP on that date.
- Provides a fee schedule for PIP benefits.
- Limits the health care providers who must be reimbursed under PIP.
- Provides additional time for PIP insurers to respond to a demand letter for payment before a suit may be filed.

FLORIDA AUTO INSURANCE

- Requires insurers to reserve $5,000 of benefits for 30 days for physicians providing emergency services or care or inpatient hospital care.
- Requires that all PIP claims related to a single provider for the same injured person be joined in a single lawsuit.
- Makes it an unfair trade practice for an insurer to refuse to pay valid claims as a general business practice, and allows the Attorney General to investigate and initiate actions, in addition to the Office of Insurance Regulation.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

- Florida is the largest market dominated by private market insurers (compared to state sponsored residual market entities in New York and California).
- A recent rate decrease of 18.4 percent that took effect January 1, 2008 marks the 5th consecutive year of workers' compensation rate decreases for a total cumulative decrease in rates of 51.4 percent since 2003.
- Insurance Commissioner McCarty ordered six workers' compensation insurance companies to return $4.2M in excess profits on February 20, 2008.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

- Other favorable trends include overall decline in workers' compensation claim frequency.
- In 2006, a state appellate court rejected a constitutional challenge to Florida's statute which restricts the amount of attorney's fees that may be awarded in a workers' compensation case.
- On October 10, 2007, the Florida Supreme Court accepted jurisdiction to review that decision.

MEDICAL MALPRACTICE

- Prior to 2003, Florida experienced double-digit rate increases and a lack of availability of medical malpractice insurance.
- Many health care providers stopped carrying coverage.
- Legislative reforms enacted in 2003 appear to be effective. A recent report from the OIR shows a net decline in medical malpractice rates for physicians and surgeons.
- The report also shows that 7 new medical malpractice carriers entered the market in 2006.

REINSURANCE COLLATERAL REQUIREMENTS

- The Florida Legislature enacted legislation amending Florida law regarding credit for reinsurance in 2007.
- The new legislation authorizes OIR to waive or lower the deposit requirement for all reinsurers, domestic, foreign and alien, based on criteria related to the financial strength of the reinsurer and the quality of the reinsurer's regulatory jurisdiction.

REINSURANCE COLLATERAL REQUIREMENTS

- In addition, the assuming reinsurer must have at least $100 million in surplus in order to qualify for this waiver or reduction in required deposit.
- OIR held a hearing in November 2007 on a proposed rule to implement this new legislation.
- The proposed Rule establishes a procedure by which a reinsurer can become an “eligible reinsurer.”

REINSURANCE COLLATERAL REQUIREMENTS

- This status would allow a ceding insurer to receive credit for reinsurance without the need for the eligible reinsurer to post 100% collateral.
- The proposed Rule sets forth a list of criteria which must be satisfied to enter an order approving a reinsurer as an “eligible” reinsurer.
- Once eligibility is determined, the proposed Rule sets forth a schedule as to the amount of credit for reinsurance which would be allowed without the posting of collateral.

REINSURANCE COLLATERAL REQUIREMENTS

- The most significant factor would be the financial strength ratings of the reinsurer.
- The proposed Rule requires certain provisions in any applicable reinsurance contract, annual filings with OIR for the eligible reinsurer to maintain that status, and immediate notice to OIR upon any changes in ratings, license status or the identity of the reinsurer's directors or officers.

REINSURANCE COLLATERAL REQUIREMENTS

- The Insurance Commissioner has discretion to withdraw any prior determination of eligibility of a reinsurer if that would be in the best interests of the market and solvency of the ceding insurer.
- The proposed Rule further requires the assuming reinsurer to post 100% collateral for any credit taken by the ceding reinsurer if the ceding reinsurer goes into rehabilitation, conservation or liquidation.

FEDERAL ISSUES

National Catastrophe Insurance Plan

- Congress is considering bills to establish a national catastrophe fund.
- The National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) supports a national cat fund.
- The Bush administration and insurance trade groups voiced strong opposition to the proposed legislation.
- Under the proposed legislation that passed the House, state would have the option of joining a consortium of state-based insurance funds.

FEDERAL ISSUES

Homeowners Defense Act of 2007

- Reps. Tim Mahoney and Ron Klein of Florida introduced H.R. 3355, the Homeowners Defense Act of 2007, to create a national catastrophe insurance fund to cover massive losses from natural disaster. H.R. 3355 was passed in the House on November 8, 2007.
- The NAIC congratulated the House for passing H.R. 3355. NAIC President and Alabama Insurance Commissioner Walter Bell stated: “This bill is a shining example of where the states can work with the federal government to address a national threat.”

FEDERAL ISSUES

- On November 6, 2007, Senators Bill Nelson and Hillary Rodham Clinton introduced a Senate version of the Homeowners Defense Act.
- Under both bills, states would have the option of joining a consortium of state-based insurance funds. The group would then raise money for the program by selling catastrophe bonds and reinsurance contracts to the private market. The program would also provide federal loans to states hit particularly hard by natural disasters once claims hit a certain cap.

FEDERAL ISSUES

- The recent wildfires in Southern California have raised the profile of the legislation, helping to illustrate that the legislation has appeal beyond Florida.
- The Bush administration and insurance trade groups are voicing strong opposition to provisions in the legislation, and the administration is threatening to veto.

FEDERAL ISSUES

McCarran-Ferguson Act

- Congress passed the Act in 1945 to provide that state laws and regulations that regulate the business of insurance may not be preempted by federal law.
- Under the current Act, insurance is exempt from some federal antitrust statutes.
- The Act is under attack in part due to the perceived reactions by insurers to the 2004-2005 hurricane seasons.
- The insurance industry contends that the move to repeal the Act would reduce competition, create more litigation, increase the cost of doing business and drive up the cost of insurance to the public.

FEDERAL ISSUES

National Insurance Act

- Similar to the legislation introduced in 2006, the 2007 bill proposes a new federal role in insurance regulation which is based on the dual banking regulatory system.
- Under the bill, insurers operating under multiple state jurisdictions could choose to be regulated at the national level under a new "Optional Federal Charter".

FEDERAL ISSUES

Debate Regarding Federal or State Regulatory Authority

- Unified federal system would promote uniformity; reduce costs; more highly paid staff; reduce influence of powerful insurance industry.
- State regulatory authority: decentralizes power; relies upon long history of regulatory control; is a known commodity; smaller and more flexible to respond to changing needs.
- Significant problem with state control involves limited funding and insufficient personnel. Creates fragmented regulatory environment for multi-state businesses.

FEDERAL ISSUES

Other Federal Issues

- National Flood Insurance Program – proposals have been made to amend the program.
- Terrorism Risk Insurance Act (TRIA), adopted in 2002, created a 3 year federal program to provide partial compensation for losses resulting from certain terrorist-related events.
- TRIA was extended in 2005 for 2 years. TRIA was again extended in December for another 7 years to 2014.
